Recommendation

As the administrator of the Julia Campbell Agro-Forest Memorial Park (JCAMP), and 2011 IVLP Alumnus ("Spirit of Volunteerism") it is my distinct honor to strongly recommend Lessly Mae Vizcarra for the Peace Corps Alumni Foundation for Philippine Development (PCAFPD) Scholarship Program. JCAMP was founded to honor the memory and community-first spirit of Peace Corps Volunteer Julia Campbell. Because of this deeply shared history, I know exactly the kind of passion, resilience, and commitment to grassroots development that your foundation looks for in a scholar. Fortunately, students I have introduced to and who has availed of the PCAFPD Scholarship Program has gone on to be highly successful. This track record gives me great confidence when identifying truly outstanding candidates, and I can say without hesitation that Lessly Mae belongs in that exact same tier of excellence.

Lessly Mae has proven herself to be an exceptionally diligent, industrious, and reliable worker in our extension project- the seedling nursery development in Bayombong, Nueva Vizcaya. Balancing the demands of her studies with manual work to earn money for her school needs is no small feat, yet Lessly Mae manages both with grace, maturity, and unwavering discipline. Lessly mae does not let financial challenges hinder her academic aspirations; instead, she meets them with hard work and integrity. Given my background with the IVLP, my history with your foundation, and my daily work at JCAMP, I can confidently state that Lessly Mae truly embodies the true spirit of volunteerism and grassroots development. I have no doubt that this scholarship will alleviate her financial burdens, allowing her to fully focus on her educational goals, which she will ultimately channel back into serving her community and country.

Lessly Mae Vizcarra has the highest recommendation from everyone here at JCAMP. Just like the successful PCAFPD scholars before her, she is highly deserving of your investment, and I am certain she will make your foundation proud. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you require any additional information.
