PCAFPD SCHOLARSHIP RECOMMENDATION

Recommender: Camille Sagum
Relationship to Applicant: Former Senior High School Adviser
Organization/School: Our Lady of Fatima University

I am pleased to recommend Kinch Glaizer S. Manalastas for the PCAFPD Undergraduate Scholarship. As his former Senior High School adviser, I had the opportunity to observe his development as a student and as a young leader.

During his Senior High School years, Kinch consistently demonstrated diligence, responsibility, maturity, and perseverance. He was dependable when given responsibilities and was willing to take initiative when leadership was needed. He handled his responsibilities seriously and showed the ability to work cooperatively with his classmates.

Kinch also demonstrated leadership by willingly taking responsibility for tasks and helping organize and guide his peers. What stood out to me was his willingness to lead while remaining respectful and considerate of others. He understood that leadership involves not only giving direction but also listening, cooperating, and being accountable for the responsibilities entrusted to him.

I believe Kinch possesses qualities that are valuable for a scholarship recipient, including hard work, integrity, perseverance, responsibility, willingness to learn, and commitment to his goals. His determination to continue his education despite challenges demonstrates his strong desire to improve himself and build a better future.

I believe Kinch will make good use of the educational opportunity provided by this scholarship. With continued support, I am confident that he can further develop his abilities and use his education to contribute positively to his family and community. I therefore recommend him for consideration for the PCAFPD Undergraduate Scholarship.
