Development

Dear Board of Directors,

I am Paulo Luis Zipagan, Student Activity Program Coordinator at Xavier School Nuvali, one of the premier private institutions in the country. I have had the pleasure and honor of guiding Joshua Xavier U. Diaz as his Grade 11 Class Adviser and in the Student Council where he served as the Executive Secretary to the Externals Administrative Officer. I have also worked closely with him in various student committees such as Musikapwa, a student-led benefit concert for the school's partner public educational institutions.

Joshua is one of the kindest and most sincere students I have known. He truly embodies Xavier's motto of being "men for others." He never shies away from offering help to those in need, even if it means sacrificing his own rest or personal time. This is something he still needs to improve on, but what stands out is that no effort he gives is ever wasted. His intentions are sincere in extending himself for others, as an embodiment of cura personalis. His generosity and selflessness have always been evident in the way he serves others and the greater community.

Joshua has represented the school with pride as a varsity badminton player, competing with humility and discipline. Beyond athletics, he has been an active member of various school committees. In Musikapwa, a benefit concert for an adopted public school in Calamba, he played a key role in continuing one of its most meaningful traditions: Walong Sinag, a segment that highlights the stories and values of eight individuals who exemplify what it means to live for and with others. Joshua also lent his creativity as a consistent member of the school's media team, covering events and showcasing the life of the school community. He has contributed to large-scale activities such as the School Fair and Buwan ng Wika celebrations, showing both initiative and reliability. Despite his many commitments, Joshua has consistently maintained academic excellence, earning First Honors with a GPA of around 96, ranking 8th in his batch and 6th in STEM during Grade 11. He also co-authored a Best Research Paper awardee at the XSN Kongreso 2026, reflecting both his intellectual capability and dedication to excellence.

Additionally, Joshua served as the Public Relations Officer of his Grade 11 class, where I also served as its class adviser. In this role, he initiated communication among officers and ensured that the class was well-organized. His leadership and initiative were instrumental in the success of our school fair booth, which won Best Booth and 2nd Most Profitable Booth, with all proceeds donated to the school's Alay Kapwa Fund. Beyond this, he has also demonstrated leadership through his involvement as a Class Officer, Co-President and Online Publisher of XSN Spark, Student Council member, and creatives lead for various school events. His ability to balance academics, leadership, athletics, and creative work reflects not only discipline but also a deep sense of purpose.

Joshua's perseverance and his desire to be of service to others are truly admirable. He consistently goes beyond expectations, motivated not by recognition but by genuine love and care for others. His ability to face challenges head-on while uplifting those around him reflects a maturity and sense of responsibility beyond his years. With all these qualities, I sincerely believe that Joshua would be a remarkable addition to the Peace Corps Alumni Foundation for Philippine Development Scholarship where he can continue to grow in service, leadership, creativity, and faith.
