Recommendation

To the PCAFPD Scholarship Committee,

It is a distinct honor and privilege to strongly recommend Ginalene B. Orciano for the Peace Corps Alumni Foundation for Philippine Development (PCAFPD) Scholarship. As her previous adviser, I have observed Ginalene's growth, dedication, and exemplary character, making her a truly outstanding candidate who embodies the core criteria of this award: academic excellence, demonstrated leadership, and profound financial need.

Academic Excellence and Character

Ginalene is an exceptional student who consistently strives for intellectual and personal excellence. She achieved With Honors distinction throughout Grade 11 and has maintained this high level of academic achievement into Grade 12, earning With Honors status in the first term. Beyond her intellectual capabilities, Ginalene possesses exemplary moral integrity and discipline, as evidenced by her receiving the school Conduct Award. She is polite, respectful, and highly dependable, serving as a role model to her peers both inside and outside the classroom.

Leadership, Extracurricular Involvement, and Community Impact

Ginalene's leadership skills and passion for learning are showcased through her active involvement in school organizations. As a student journalist, she uses her writing voice to inform, engage, and advocate for meaningful topics within the school community. Furthermore, as an active member of the School Book Lovers Club, she consistently promotes literacy, critical thinking, and a love for reading among her fellow students. Her initiative, active participation, and ability to inspire others reflect strong leadership potential and a commitment to service.

Financial Need

Ginalene's determination to pursue higher education is even more inspiring given her family's financial circumstances. Her mother works hard as a domestic helper/maid to support the household, while her father is currently unemployed. Despite these significant financial challenges, Ginalene has never allowed economic constraints to hinder her passion for learning or her ambition to succeed. The PCAFPD scholarship would provide her with the vital financial assistance required to pursue her tertiary education and achieve her full potential.

Conclusion

Ginalene B. Orciano is a resilient, hardworking, and deeply deserving student whose academic achievements, strong moral character, and active involvement make her an ideal candidate for your scholarship program. I am confident that she will continue to excel academically and contribute meaningfully to her community and country. I give her my highest and unreserved recommendation.
