Recommendation

PCAFPD scholars are chosen on the basis of their financial need, academic performance, and commitment to community service and leadership. As the applicant's reference, please describe the applicant's demonstrated leadership skills, accomplishments, and impacts on your community and any other relevant information you feel the committee should know about the applicant.

As a former teacher of Dayle Jaden T. Henson in Reading and Writing, I had the opportunity to observe his academic performance, attitude, and interactions with his classmates. Dayle is an intelligent, responsible, and cooperative student who consistently demonstrates a strong commitment to his studies. He performed exceptionally well in assessments and performance tasks, frequently achieving perfect scores or ranking among the highest in the class. His academic excellence is complemented by his willingness to participate and cooperate in classroom activities.

Beyond his academic abilities, Dayle is a kind, helpful, and respectful student. He willingly assists his classmates and maintains positive relationships with others. Despite his exceptional intelligence and academic achievements, he remains humble, approachable, and down-to-earth. His combination of academic excellence, good character, and willingness to help others makes him a well-rounded student.

Based on my experience teaching him, I highly recommend Dayle Jaden T. Henson for admission to your institution. I believe that he has the ability, character, and positive attitude to succeed academically and to become a valuable and responsible member of your school community.
