Recommendation

PCAFPD scholars are chosen on the basis of their financial need, academic performance, and commitment to community service and leadership. As the applicant's reference, please describe the applicant's demonstrated leadership skills, accomplishments, and impacts on your community and any other relevant information you feel the committee should know about the applicant.

Having followed her path closely as her former coach, I can personally attest that this young woman has manifested extraordinary talent and perseverance since day one of the journey. Recently, Louise attended the Regional Schools Press Conference 2024 held, representing Division of Pampanga with her team in this prestige stage, where only the cream of the crop of Campus Journalists are gathered. She has been consistently championing in the field from being the Best News Presenter in the recently held CSSPC, DSSPC, and RSPC. This is an achievement that underlines not only her journalistic ability but also how she coped under pressure and excelled in the most competitive environment. In addition to her fantastic performance that died in the press conference, the applicant is a born leader. Her dedication and work ethic are an inspiration to her peers. First and foremost, it speaks volumes of her commitment to excellence and future potential that she can represent their division and bring home the accolades. Considering Louise's passion for journalism with a proven track record, I really do believe that the applicant is among the best candidates for this scholarship. They are not only a participant but also a leader who always comes to the top and makes their community proud.
