Recommendation

I am pleased to recommend Ms. Niña Mae B. Arellano for the PCAFPD Scholarship. As someone who has known Niña Mae for how many years, I can confidently say that she possesses a unique combination of traits that make her a strong candidate for this scholarship. Niña Mae is creative and imaginative, with a deep love for intellectual pursuits. Her passion for learning and exploring new ideas is evident in her academic performance and her constant curiosity about the world around her. She is adaptable and flexible, often approaching life with a spontaneous and open-minded attitude. She is always genuine in her interactions and is committed to forming deep, lasting relationships with those around her. Her balanced personality allows her to enjoy both quiet introspective moments and social interactions, making her approachable and relatable to her peers. Furthermore, Niña Mae is an active participant in community projects. She has consistently taken part in various initiatives such as garbage collecting and tree planting in her barangay, community cleaning efforts, and team-building activities. These experiences have not only demonstrated her commitment to service but have also taught her valuable lessons about leadership, teamwork, and the importance of giving back to her community. In conclusion, Niña Mae's dedication to both her personal growth and her community makes her an ideal candidate for this scholarship. I believe she will continue to excel and make significant contributions, both academically and socially, with the support of this scholarship.

Sincerely,

ALONA B. CADELIÑA
