Recommendation

I am happy and confident to recommend JAMUEL JOHN A. GARINO for the PCAFPD Scholarship. As his Grade 11 Chemistry teacher, I have seen him work hard and show a strong desire to learn. Jamuel stands out in class because of his critical thinking, creativity, and close attention to detail. His family faces financial challenges, as his mother, a teacher, is the main supporter, while his father does not have a steady job. This makes it hard for them to cover school costs for Jamuel and his younger brother. Jamuel's interest in science and the STEM field is clear from his schoolwork and extracurriculars. I believe this scholarship will help him reach his goals, and I fully support his application, knowing he will use this chance well.
