Good day! As a Psychology student, Ms. Molina has maintained good academic standing in the past semesters. Alongside her academic responsibilities, she is also actively involved in the Psychology Society as an officer. She has consistently met the requirements and expectations of the courses and has shown a positive attitude towards her studies.

Since I started handling some of her classes, I have observed how Ms. Molina has established good relationships with her classmates and instructors. She shows to be a good team player, having no problem exercising her authority and also following others, depending on what the situation requires.

I believe that if given the opportunity to be granted the scholarship, Ms. Molina can manage both the demands of the scholarship grant and the academic requirements of the university. Her positive attitude and dedication as a student will also help her commit to whatever endeavor she is faced with in her academic journey. It is my confidence that should she be granted this scholarship, she will really make the most of the opportunity afforded her.

I hope that this recommendation finds your merit. Thank you.
