Recommendation

As Christine Mae D. Ido's Victory Group coach and leader, I have had the privilege of knowing her well for nearly two years. Our initial encounter took place during our group sessions and one-on-one coaching, and I became more familiar with her while we volunteered together for the Love the City initiatives. Throughout our time together, I have had the opportunity to hear about her remarkable life experiences and witness her unwavering dedication to excelling academically and participating in outreach activities. Christine is deeply committed to achieving her ambitious dreams through education and firmly believes that she can accomplish this through her faith in Christ. I take great pride in her leadership roles within school organizations and her enthusiastic participation as a volunteer in various outreach efforts. She skillfully manages to balance all of her commitments without compromising her academic performance. For these reasons, I firmly believe that she deserves to receive this scholarship.
