To whom it may concern:
Dear Scholarship Committee,

It is with genuine pride that I recommend Andrei Peter V. Canales for the PCAFPD scholarship. As his teacher in both Thermodynamics and Electricity and Magnetism at Pangasinan State University, I have had the pleasure of watching Andrei's passion for science grow, paired with a commitment to make a positive impact. He stands out not only as an accomplished student but as someone dedicated to creating a more sustainable and supportive world.

What is truly inspiring about Andrei is his dedication to renewable energy. He invested countless hours into a campus-wide wind energy project, using his knowledge to benefit our community. Andrei was integral to the planning and installation of wind turbines on campus, working to bring clean energy to students and staff alike. His involvement in every aspect of the project underscored his vision for a greener future.

Beyond academics, Andrei's generosity extends into his volunteer work. He dedicates time to community programs like neighborhood cleanups and tree-planting activities, always showing humility and genuine care for those around him. Andrei exemplifies selfless leadership, and I am confident that with the support of the PCAFPD scholarship, he will further expand his positive impact.

Respectfully yours,

Assoc. Prof. Dennis V. Montoya
