I am pleased to recommend Lhance Cyrus Capuso, a young man with a keen curiosity for new experiences. Lhance is a student who pursues his goals with hard work and commitment, excelling in both academics and extracurricular activities. This dedication makes him a strong candidate for any opportunity he seeks.

During his academic years under my guidance, Lhance joined the scouting organization and participated in the Eco-Green System event as part of his extracurricular involvement. His ability to grasp complex concepts and handle challenges thoughtfully reflects his strong character and personal values. He has earned the respect of his classmates and teachers alike.

Lhance's academic and leadership qualities are evident in the roles he has taken on, which highlight not only his willingness to participate but also his leadership potential.
