Ronan comes from a family with limited financial means, making it difficult for him to fully support his education. Despite these hardships, he consistently strives for academic excellence and performs admirably in his studies. Ronan's diligence and perseverance are apparent in his classwork and engagement, reflecting a deep commitment to learning and personal growth.

What truly sets Ronan apart, however, is his strong Christian faith and the leadership role he holds within his local church community. As a youth leader, he serves as a positive role model and mentor to younger members of his congregation, guiding them in faith and personal development. His commitment to his faith not only shaped his character but also strengthened his resolve to contribute meaningfully to his community, a goal that aligns closely with the values upheld by the Peace Corps Alumni Foundation.

Ronan is a young man of modesty and integrity, embodying simplicity and sincerity in all that he does. He approaches life with gratitude and grace, often lending a hand to those in need and encouraging his peers to pursue their own paths with purpose and humility. The financial support from this scholarship would relieve a substantial burden, allowing him to continue focusing on his education and contributions to his church and community.

I strongly endorse Mr. Ronan S. Dalura for this scholarship. His resilience, faith-driven leadership, and dedication to community service make him an asset to both his academic and local communities. I am confident that he will carry these values forward in ways that align with your foundation's mission to support positive development in the Philippines.

Thank you for considering Mr. Ronan S. Dalura for this scholarship opportunity.
