It is my pleasure to recommend Mr. Gerald R. Sandayan for the PCAFPD Scholarship Program. As one of the Social Work Instructor of College of Arts and Sciences at Cotabato State University, I have witnessed Mr. Sandayan's academic performance, his unwavering dedication to his education, and genuine passion in serving others. His academic record is outstanding, with his consistent high grades and a strong grasp of social work principles. He is a type of student that is committed in learning and engages actively in classroom discussion, showcases critical thinking abilities, and is keen in utilizing his knowledge in practical scenarios.

In addition to his accomplishments, Gerald is also a valuable contributor to our department and the broader university community. He has dedicated much of his time in volunteering with different organizations, showcasing his dedication in tackling social problems and advocating for positive change. He clearly shows his leadership skill as he is the current JSWAP-CotSU Chapter Auditor. Gerald's commitment to social work, as well as his strong academic performance and leadership skills, qualify him as a perfect candidate for the PCAFPD Scholarship Program. I believe he will succeed in the program and make use of the scholarship to advance his education and professional growth.
