To the PCAFPD Scholarship Committee,

It is with great confidence and pride that I write this recommendation for Yesha, a dedicated and exemplary student under my guidance in the NSTP-CWTS (National Service Training Program – Civic Welfare Training Service) course. Throughout the duration of our program, Yesha has consistently demonstrated exceptional Leadership, initiative, and an unwavering commitment to community service, qualities that are deeply aligned with the values upheld by PCAFPD.

From the onset of the program, Yesha stood out among her peers for her natural ability to lead by example. She quickly assumed a leadership role within her group and played a crucial part in organizing and executing our community-based projects. One of her most notable contributions was her leadership in a community clean-up and education drive aimed at promoting environmental awareness among local youth. Yesha not only helped in planning and logistics, but also actively engaged residents, coordinated with local barangay officials, and personally delivered educational sessions on waste segregation and sustainability.

What sets Yesha apart is her genuine passion for service. She consistently showed up prepared, encouraged her teammates to do their best, and went above and beyond her assigned responsibilities. Her thoughtful communication, empathy, and ability to mobilize others made a lasting impact—not just on the success of our projects, but also on the people we served.

In terms of academic performance, Yesha maintained a high level of excellence, balancing her scholastic responsibilities with her community commitments. She is intellectually curious, hardworking, and solutions-oriented, often contributing thoughtful insights during our program reflections and discussions.

Her impact on the community is tangible. Residents and local leaders have expressed appreciation for her leadership and sincerity. Moreover, she has inspired her fellow students to take civic engagement more seriously, fostering a culture of volunteerism and social responsibility within the NSTP-CWTS cohort.

In conclusion, Yesha exemplifies the values of financial responsibility, academic integrity, and servant leadership. I strongly believe she would be an outstanding scholar and future community leader. I highly recommend her for the PCAFPD scholarship, confident that she will continue to make meaningful contributions wherever she goes.

Sincerely,
