Recommendation

To the esteemed PCAFPD Scholarship Committee,

I am writing to enthusiastically recommend James Badrina for the PCAFPD scholarship. As his teacher at Sto. Domingo National High School, I had the privilege of witnessing his exceptional academic achievements and commitment to community service.

James excelled academically, graduated with High Honors. His dedication to learning was evident in his remarkable accomplishments: he was ranked among the Top 5 Most Promising Researchers and notably achieved the Top 1 ranking as the Most Environmentally Relevant Researcher. His research skills were further highlighted by his win as Top 1 Best Research Presenter at the Junior High School Research Congress, and his recognition as Top 1 Best in Physical Science Research, earning him the prestigious Einstein's Choice Award at the same congress.

Beyond academics, James was a natural leader. He successfully led his groupmates in an entrepreneurship project, demonstrating effective sales and marketing strategies. His commitment to community service was also commendable as evidenced by his participation in Seashore Clean Up Drives.

James Combination of exceptional academic performance, demonstrated leadership skills and dedication to community service makes him an outstanding candidate for the PCAFPD scholarship. He possesses the intellectual capacity, drive and compassion to make a significant contribution to society. I highly recommend him without reservation.

Sincerely,

Jessica B. Nieto
Teacher, Sto. Domingo National High School
