To PCAFPD Scholarship,

It is with great pleasure that I write this letter of recommendation for Zairah Cuaresma, an incoming first-year student in the Bachelor of Elementary Education (BEED) program. I have had the privilege of knowing Zairah during her senior high school years, where I witnessed her growth, perseverance, and strong dedication to her studies despite facing significant financial challenges.

Zairah is an exceptional student with a genuine passion for teaching. During her work immersion, she showed a natural ability to connect with young learners and assist them in their academic needs. She was patient, responsible, and always willing to take initiative, even when tasks were difficult. Her experience during this immersion solidified her dream of becoming a teacher who will give back to her community.

What sets Zairah apart is her resilience. Despite her family's limited resources and being raised by a single mother, she has remained focused and optimistic. She has shown maturity beyond her years, and I am confident she will excel in the BEED program and beyond.

I strongly recommend Zairah for any scholarship or financial assistance program. She is a worthy candidate who will use this opportunity not just to uplift her own future but to contribute meaningfully to our education sector.

Sincerely,

Joseph Bollozos
