Recommendation:

It is with great joy and confidence that I write this letter of recommendation for Angela Grace T. Capua in her application for your scholarship program. I have known Angela through her active involvement in church, where she faithfully serves as part of the Engagement Ministry. This ministry plays a vital role in ensuring smooth flow of our services through hosting, voice overs and floor directing — and Angela has consistently proven herself to be organized, diligent and dependable in these responsibilities.

Angela has a quiet yet steady kind of leadership. She does not call attention to herself, yet her presence brings confidence and order to the team. She works well under pressure, keeps things running smoothly and always encourages those around her to give their best. Her ability to lead with both excellence and humility has left a lasting impact on our ministry and congregation.

What also stands out about Angela is her heart. She comes from a family that loves and serves the Lord, and this is evident in her own life. She carries herself with integrity, humility and sincere desire to help others. I have witnessed how she invests her time and energy not only for her personal spiritual growth but also for the good of her church community. Her life is a testimony of how a young person can use their gifts to serve the Lord and others faithfully.

Angela's life and service reflect the heart of your foundation's mission — to develop principled leaders who use their education and abilities to uplift communities. She is intelligent, responsible and resourceful, but beyond that, she has demonstrated the kind of character and servant-leadership that will allow her to make a difference in any community she belongs to. She has already shown that she does not live for herself alone, but seeks to be a blessing wherever she is placed. Supporting her education will not only benefit her but also multiply into greater service and leadership in the future. I believe that with your support, she will continue to grow into the kind of leader who contributes to lasting change and hope for our nation for the glory of our Almighty God.

Thank you for your consideration of Angela's application. I wholeheartedly endorse her and am confident she will carry with her the values and mission that your foundation upholds.
