Recommendation:

I have known the applicant as a responsible and hardworking student who shows strong commitment to both academics and community service. They actively participate in clean-up drives, school outreach programs, and other civic activities, always demonstrating a genuine sense of responsibility and teamwork. Their leadership skills are evident in how they motivate and guide their peers, while maintaining humility and respect for others. I believe the applicant possesses the qualities of integrity, perseverance, and dedication that make them an excellent candidate for the PCAFPD scholarship, and I highly recommend them without reservation.
