To the PCAFPD Scholarship Committee,

It is with heartfelt pride and deep admiration that I recommend Ms. Ana Nicole Mae M. Buquir, my former advisee from Grade 10–Galileo (School Year 2022–2023), for the PCAFPD scholarship. Having witnessed her growth as both a student and a young leader, I can attest to her exceptional academic abilities, her remarkable leadership, and her genuine commitment to service.

Academically, Ana Nicole is truly outstanding. She consistently displayed diligence and perseverance, which earned her the distinction of being Top 1 in her batch. She does not simply excel in her coursework but goes beyond to pursue excellence in various fields. Notably, she won 3rd place in a Regional Essay Writing Contest and has long been a dedicated campus journalist, using her voice and talents to represent both her school and her peers. Her strong communication skills and discipline are complemented by her intellectual curiosity, which shines through in her research endeavors. In fact, under her leadership, their group's work was recognized as the Best Thesis, a testament not only to her academic brilliance but also to her ability to guide others toward shared success.

Equally inspiring is Ana Nicole's commitment to leadership and service. As her adviser, I have always admired her readiness to help and reach out to others. She has led numerous group activities with a steady hand and a compassionate heart, ensuring that everyone felt valued and included. Whether in academics or in community engagements, Ana Nicole leads by example, always showing humility, kindness, and a genuine concern for others' welfare. Her classmates often looked up to her not only as a leader but as a true friend who uplifted those around her.

What sets Ana Nicole apart is the rare balance she carries: the brilliance of a scholar, the determination of a leader, and the warmth of someone who truly cares for her community. Despite her many accomplishments, she faces financial challenges that could limit the opportunities she so rightfully deserves. This is why the PCAFPD scholarship is not only a recognition of her merits but also a vital support for her to continue reaching her full potential.

With the highest regard and without hesitation, I wholeheartedly recommend Ana Nicole Mae M. Buquir for the PCAFPD scholarship. I am confident that with your support, she will continue to excel academically, serve her community wholeheartedly, and become a shining example of the very ideals your program seeks to promote.

Sincerely,

MARY JEAN CAMILLE C. BAYHON
Adviser, Grade 10–Galileo (2022–2023)
