Recommendation

PCAFPD scholars are chosen on the basis of their financial need, academic performance, and commitment to community service and leadership. As the applicant's reference, please describe the applicant's demonstrated leadership skills, accomplishments, and impacts on your community and any other relevant information you feel the committee should know about the applicant.

It is my honor to recommend Jerma Fay B. Espina for the PCAFPD scholarship program. As the Barangay Captain of Caaga, I have personally witnessed Jerma demonstrate exceptional leadership, academic dedication, and a deep commitment to community service. Despite facing financial challenges, she have consistently used her talents and time to serve others in ways that greatly benefit our barangay.

One of the most notable contributions of Jerma was her leadership in organizing “after-school tutoring sessions for struggling learners” and “a community-driven project on proper waste segregation and recycling”, which has brought lasting benefits to our residents. With the maturity and perspective of someone in her early forties, Jerma approached this initiative with a sense of responsibility and long-term vision, ensuring that the project was not only implemented but also sustained by active participation from the community. The impact continues to be felt today, as it instilled cooperation, accountability, and shared ownership among both the youth and adults of the barangay.

I have no doubt that Jerma embodies the values that PCAFPD looks for in its scholars. She has consistently demonstrated resilience, academic dedication, and a steadfast commitment to service throughout the years. What sets her apart is her ability to balance the demands of family, volunteer work, and teaching, all while giving wholeheartedly to the community. This level of perseverance and leadership, grounded in both personal experience and professional dedication, makes Jerma a truly deserving candidate.
