Recommendation

PCAFPD scholars are chosen on the basis of their financial need, academic performance, and commitment to community service and leadership. As the applicant's reference, please describe the applicant's demonstrated leadership skills, accomplishments, and impacts on your community and any other relevant information you feel the committee should know about the applicant.

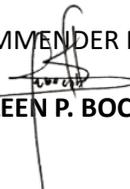

This letter testifies how great and humble student CARLO ESRTRADA is. I was his classroom adviser last year and currently his subject teacher this school year at Callejon National High School. He has been proving his desire to finish his secondary level to pursue college degree. Thus, I do believe that with his undeniable talents, skills, intelligence, kindness, and humbleness can push him to his success.

As his teacher, I have been witnessing his talents and skills that are greatly appreciated in his performances inside the classroom. He has speaking skills that allow him to express his thoughts and perspective regarding topics or concepts, especially with specialized subjects focusing on Humanities and Social Sciences. I will never forget his statements during the Debate, one of culminating tasks that I gave them. He has the ability to collaborate with his classmates and form camaraderie and friendship among his group, which I really have been seeing. Also, his grade in every subject enables him to be part of the academic awardees in every quarter. His skills and intelligence are one of his assets as a students which I genuinely appreciated as his teacher.

Aside from his skills and intelligence, what really amazed me is his attitude towards the people around him. He always cares for his classmates. He even becomes their 'Kuya' in the classroom. Carlo always wears humbleness. He never missed thanking everyone, especially his teachers, with all his school achievements. He never missed submitting outputs and projects because according to him, it is his job to finish and pass it on time. He has a good heart, putting others first before himself.

I know that these words about him are not enough to describe him as a great student. But I do believe that this kid has the core of being a successful person. I hope that my letter will knock the heart of your humble office, to consider my student, Carlo Estrada, to be part of your scholarship. Thank you and God Bless.
