Recommendation

I am pleased to recommend Amir Raiz P. Iskak for this scholarship opportunity. I had the chance to work with him closely as he assisted me with several administrative and client-related tasks. He is a reliable person who needs little guidance once given instructions and has easily adjusted to the work environment and related processes. He has shown initiative in compiling files, handling client service, and maintaining professionalism qualities that made him an invaluable assistant. His diligence also allowed me to see how he values punctuality and time management.

What stood out to me is his ability to swiftly adapt to new tasks, procedures, and technology, which makes him a valuable team member. He also demonstrates accountability, readily taking responsibility for his choices and actions. Because of this, he consistently fulfills his obligations and produces excellent work.

In the workplace, his honesty serves as the cornerstone of trust. By being truthful with both supervisors and colleagues, he fosters strong bonds and contributes to a positive work environment. Lastly, his personable nature makes it easy for others to approach him with questions, concerns, or suggestions, which encourages teamwork and a sense of community essential for productivity. His diligence also allowed me to see how much he values punctuality and time management.

PCAFPD scholars are chosen on the basis of their financial need, academic performance, and commitment to community service and leadership. As the applicant's reference, please describe the applicant's demonstrated leadership skills, accomplishments, and impacts on your community and any other relevant information you feel the committee should know about the applicant.
