PCAFPD Scholarship Committee

Dear Members of the Committee,

I am honored to recommend Ms. Aaliyah Eunice L. Aliling for the PCAFPD Scholarship. I had the privilege of teaching Aaliyah during her senior high school years at Mulanay Institute, and I can confidently say that she is among the most diligent, responsible, and community-spirited students I have encountered.

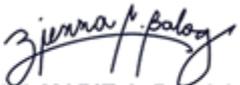

Aaliyah has consistently demonstrated academic excellence, maintaining high grades across all her subjects. Her intellectual ability is matched by her strong leadership skills. As the Grade 12 Department President and an active member of the Supreme Student Government (SSG), she has proven her capacity to organize, manage, and inspire her peers. She can be entrusted with important tasks for school programs and carries them out with remarkable independence and dedication.

Beyond leadership, Aaliyah's commitment to holistic development is evident in her involvement in extracurricular activities. She is an active member of the school band and has represented the school in singing contests, quiz bees, and other competitions, showcasing not only her talents but also her loyalty and pride in bringing honor to her institution.

What distinguishes Aaliyah even more is her character. Despite coming from a family with modest means—her father being the sole breadwinner as a tricycle driver—she remains deeply committed to her education and personal growth. Her resilience and determination to excel are clear, and I firmly believe that with financial support, she will thrive even further and contribute meaningfully to her community.

Aaliyah embodies the values of academic excellence, leadership, and service that the PCAFPD Scholarship seeks to nurture. She has both the promise and the determination to succeed, and I wholeheartedly recommend her for this opportunity.

Thank you for considering her application.
