Dear PCAFPD scholarship committee,

Greetings of Peace!

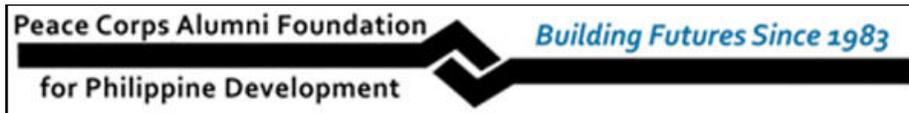

I am pleased to express my support on Angel Pines scholarship application. Over the past two years, I have been instructing and guiding her at Gateways Institute of Science and Technology, Antipolo Campus, in English and art subjects. Throughout this period, I have been, and continue to be, highly impressed by her diverse skills in the classroom, her overall academic achievements, and her remarkable discipline within the learning environment. As a teacher, I have never encountered anyone who makes the learning experience so fulfilling. Every student and educator contribute a specific degree of dedication, yet Angel has introduced a level that is rare and exceptional. Whenever she participated in a classroom lesson or a solo project, she committed to learning and finishing the task in a manner that was remarkable. In all my years of teaching in the classroom, I have never encountered a student who achieves the level of academic performance she does. She is one of the students that achieves a high-level academic standing, her various academic endeavors and learning techniques reflected her unwavering dedication. Every academic module was approached with a dedication that was a genuine blessing to her instructors.

Another quality that sets Angel apart is the capacity to lead. In her class and all her groups, she has been given the role of leadership as secretary. In class, she demonstrated maturity in guidance, clear vision, and fairness in leadership. She became the inspiration and coordinator of initiatives for her peers, who supported her all the way. Her influence is something many of us have experienced. In the future, she will surely emerge as a motivational leader for everyone.

Angel goes beyond excellent academics and effective leadership; she embodies honesty, responsibility, and empathy. Throughout the grade 11 and 12, she consistently shows a positive dedication to excellence and a desire to assist the
