Recommendation

I am honored to recommend Shofaynadz Sallim Abon, a Grade 12 Academic student of Maluso National High School, as an applicant for the PCAFPD Scholarship. During her years at our school, I have witnessed her develop into a dedicated learner and an active member of the school community. She approaches her responsibilities with perseverance, discipline, and a sincere desire to improve herself. Her academic record reflects these qualities, as she has consistently earned With Honors recognition and has received an Academic Excellence Award. Despite the difficulties she encounters, she remains focused on her studies and continues to work toward her educational aspirations.

Shofaynadz has also shown considerable involvement in activities beyond the classroom. Her participation in campus journalism has given her opportunities to express her ideas, strengthen her communication abilities, and develop her creativity. She has likewise served as a class officer, demonstrating her ability to work with others and handle responsibilities entrusted to her. Her previous experience as a radio broadcaster and campus journalist further contributed to her confidence and communication skills. Notably, she earned 1st Place in Campus Column Writing, an achievement that reflects her commitment, talent, and willingness to develop her abilities.

Another quality that distinguishes Shofaynadz is her genuine concern for the people around her. She interacts with others respectfully, cooperates well with her peers, and willingly takes part in activities where she can be of service. Her experiences in academics, leadership, and campus journalism have helped shape her into a responsible and determined young person. These qualities, together with her perseverance and compassion, show that she has the potential to continue growing and to use her education in meaningful ways.

For these reasons, I am pleased to give Shofaynadz Sallim Abon my strong recommendation for the PCAFPD Scholarship. This scholarship would provide valuable support as she continues her education and works toward her future goals. I am confident that the opportunity will encourage her to further cultivate her abilities and prepare herself for a future in which she can serve and contribute positively to her community.
