To the Scholarship Selection Committee,

It is with sincerity that I recommend Ms. Majah Kali R. Dalipe for the PCAFPD Scholarship Program. As her church leader and head of the choir, I have personally witnessed her commitment to both her church responsibilities and her education. Even during demanding periods in her academic life, she continues to attend choir duties, fulfill responsibilities entrusted to her, and remain willing to learn and adapt. She serves without seeking recognition and approaches each responsibility with discipline and respect.

What has stood out to me most is how she responds when circumstances become difficult. Despite coming from a family with limited resources, Majah continues to give her time and effort to the church and to those around her. She remains approachable and generous, and she does not allow personal challenges to keep her from serving. Through these experiences, I have seen her grow not only in faith but also in maturity and leadership.

For these reasons, I believe Majah is deserving of this scholarship. Her willingness to serve, perseverance in difficult circumstances, and commitment to her education reflect the character of a young person who will value and make meaningful use of this opportunity. I am confident that she will carry the same sense of responsibility and service into the opportunities ahead.
