Recommendation

PCAFPD scholars are chosen on the basis of their financial need, academic performance, and commitment to community service and leadership. As the applicant's reference, please describe the applicant's demonstrated leadership skills, accomplishments, and impacts on your community and any other relevant information you feel the committee should know about the applicant.

I am pleased to recommend Angel Mae M Guinto, whom I taught in English for Academic and Professional Purposes during the brief period of the first term.

During my time teaching her, I found her to be an active and responsible student. She consistently had some of the highest recitation points in class and always put extra effort into her activities, often adding her own creative designs and personal touches. She was not the type of student to simply do what was required; she often made an effort to make her work better. I also found her to be reliable. I once entrusted her with gathering and compiling her classmates' recitation and attendance records, and she handled the responsibility well. She was also someone I could count on to help keep her classmates organized and on track.

I believe her initiative, creativity, and sense of responsibility will continue to serve her well in her future studies and endeavors. I am happy to recommend her and wish her the best in the opportunities ahead.
