Recommendation

PCAFPD scholars are chosen on the basis of their financial need, academic performance, and commitment to community service and leadership. As the applicant's reference, please describe the applicant's demonstrated leadership skills, accomplishments, and impacts on your community and any other relevant information you feel the committee should know about the applicant.

I am writing to strongly recommend Reinz G. Escosa for your scholarship program. He is a resident of barangay Mailum, Bago, City, Negros Occidental. As a Barangay Captain, I am aware of his family's financial circumstances and the challenges he faces in pursuing his college education. I believe his financial need deserves serious consideration.

Reinz comes from a family with limited financial resources. His parents do not have stable employment and work through available opportunities to provide for their family's daily necessities. His mother earns only 12,000 per annum and his father earns as laborer in 36,000 annualy. Their income is mainly enough to cover for basic household needs, making it difficult to support the increasing expenses of reinz’s college education. This is especially challenging because he is taking Bachelor of Science in Architecture at the University of San Agustin, a program that requires tuition and other academic expenses.

Despite these financial difficulties, Reinz chose to continue his education because Architecture has been his dream since childhood. There were times when he considered not attending college because he knew that studying would add to his parents' financial burden. Nevertheless, he continued with determination and has learned to manage his limited resources carefully. His circumstances have not stopped him from working toward his education and future.

Reinz has also shown responsibility and willingness to serve others. He has participated in community activities such as tree-planting programs and has been involved in various Barangay environmental activities where he developed leadership, teamwork, creativity, and organizational skills. His achievements in art and journalism further demonstrate his dedication and potential.

Reinz hopes to become an architect who can contribute to Filipino communities by designing affordable, safe, resilient, and accessible spaces. He wants to use his education to help address real community needs and eventually give back to others.

For these reasons, I sincerely recommend Reinz G. Escosa for this scholarship. Financial assistance would provide him with much-needed support in continuing his Architecture education and would significantly reduce the burden on his family. More importantly, it would give a determined young student the opportunity to continue pursuing a dream that he hopes to use in service of his family and community.
