Recommendation

PCAFPD scholars are chosen on the basis of their financial need, academic performance, and commitment to community service and leadership. As the applicant's reference, please describe the applicant's demonstrated leadership skills, accomplishments, and impacts on your community and any other relevant information you feel the committee should know about the applicant.

I am proud to recommend Kzzr Ann Miles Gabatin for the PCAFPD Scholarship. I have known Kzzr Ann for five years as her leader and during those years I have had the chance to see her grow not only as a student and young leader but also as a person who truly cares about others.

Kzzr Ann is currently a youth leader in our church. Is also part of our ushering ministry and design team. Through these roles I have seen her show qualities I think are important for leadership: humility, being reliable being responsible and having a real heart for serving others. She can be trusted with tasks. When she says she will do something she gives her time and effort without hesitation.

What I notice most about Kzzr Ann is how she treats people. She is with people not above them. Even though she has leadership roles she does not use her position to feel better than others. Instead she is always ready to listen, understand, encourage and help. She has a way of giving advice with wisdom and kindness and I have seen her offer help to people in need in any way she can.

Her leadership is not about the positions she holds but about the effect she has on the people around her. She leads by example through service and with care. Her presence has made other young people feel heard, supported and important. I think this kind of leadership is very meaningful because it comes from a desire to serve, not from a desire for attention.

Kzzr Ann has also shown a commitment to her studies. She is an honor student, which shows her work, self-control and determination to do well academically while still being involved in helping her community. Balancing her schoolwork with her church responsibilities is a sign of her sense of duty and strong will.

After knowing Kzzr Ann for five years I can say with confidence that she's a young person with strong values, leadership potential, a focus on education and a real desire to help others. I believe giving her this scholarship would not help her with her education but also help train a young leader who has already shown she wants to use her talents for the good of others.

Because of this I strongly recommend Kzzr Ann Miles Gabatin for the PCAFPD Scholarship. I think she deserves the chance to keep growing. I trust that whatever chances she gets she will carry with her the same humility, responsibility and love, for people that I have seen over the five years I have known her.
