Recommendation

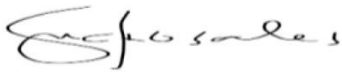

PCAFPD scholars are chosen on the basis of their financial need, academic performance, and commitment to community service and leadership. As the applicant's reference, please describe the applicant's demonstrated leadership skills, accomplishments, and impacts on your community and any other relevant information you feel the committee should know about the applicant.

I had the privilege of teaching the applicant when she was in Grade 9, and during that time, I personally witnessed her dedication, discipline, and commitment to her studies. She consistently stood out as one of the top students in the class, not only because of her academic ability but also because of her perseverance and willingness to work hard to achieve her goals.

What impressed me most was her consistent determination to learn and improve. She approached her studies with seriousness and responsibility, and her academic accomplishments were a clear reflection of her effort and discipline. She was a student who could be relied upon to complete her responsibilities and maintain a high standard of performance.

Beyond her academic achievements, she demonstrated qualities that are important in a future leader. She was respectful, responsible, and willing to contribute to the learning environment around her. Her example of diligence and commitment positively influenced her classmates, and she showed the kind of self-discipline and perseverance that can make a meaningful difference in a community.

Having taught her at an important stage of her education, I believe that her academic performance, work ethic, and character make her a deserving candidate for the PCAFPD scholarship. I am confident that, given the opportunity and support, she will continue to pursue her education with the same determination and will use her abilities and experiences to contribute positively to her community.
