Recommendation

I am pleased to recommend Neil Justin A. Elbanbuena for consideration for the PCAFPD Scholarship. As a School Counselor Associate, I am pleased to provide this recommendation based on the information and school records available through our Guidance Office and school community.

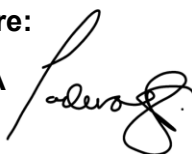

Neil Justin has demonstrated the qualities of a good and responsible student. His school record reflects appropriate conduct, respect for teachers and school personnel, and positive interactions with his fellow students. There are no documented disciplinary or behavioral concerns that would negatively affect this recommendation. He has maintained good standing within the school community and has demonstrated the behavior and attitude expected of a responsible student.

One of Neil Justin's notable accomplishments is his participation in the Asiarope Olympiad in Kuala Lumpur. His involvement in an international academic competition reflects his willingness to pursue opportunities beyond the regular classroom setting and to challenge himself academically. Participating in such an event also demonstrates commitment, preparation, perseverance, and the ability to represent his school in an international setting.

In addition to his academic pursuits, Neil Justin has participated in various school programs, activities, and events. His involvement demonstrates his willingness to cooperate with others, take part in school initiatives, and contribute to a positive school environment. Through these experiences, he has had opportunities to develop important qualities such as responsibility, teamwork, communication, and leadership.

Neil Justin has also demonstrated good character and a positive attitude toward his responsibilities as a student. He is respectful, well-mannered, and willing to work with others. His participation in academic and school activities reflects his willingness to be involved in the school community and to make meaningful use of the opportunities available to him.

Based on the information available to me, I believe that Neil Justin A. Elbanbuena is a deserving student who demonstrates good character, responsible conduct, academic commitment, and a positive attitude toward his education and school community. I believe that the PCAFPD Scholarship would provide valuable support for his continued academic development and future goals.

I am pleased to recommend Neil Justin A. Elbanbuena for consideration for this scholarship and wish him continued success in his academic journey and future endeavors.
