Recommendation

PCAFPD scholars are chosen on the basis of their financial need, academic performance, and commitment to community service and leadership. As the applicant's reference, please describe the applicant's demonstrated leadership skills, accomplishments, and impacts on your community and any other relevant information you feel the committee should know about the applicant.

Jobaerah is a diligent, trustworthy, and respectful young Muslimah who has always shown eagerness to learn, especially in understanding and practicing her faith. She listens to advice and is willing to learn from the people around her. From what I have observed, she takes her responsibilities seriously and does her best to fulfill what is entrusted to her.

She has served as a president in our madrasah, and through this responsibility, I have seen her willingness to lead and work with her fellow students. She is responsible with the tasks given to her and treats others with respect. She is also someone who can be approached and trusted when help or guidance is needed.

What I also admire about Jobaerah is her dedication to her education. From what I can remember, she sells food at school to help support her studies. Seeing her work for her education shows how determined she is to continue studying despite the challenges she faces. She is willing to work hard and make sacrifices rather than give up on her goals. This is something I find admirable in her as a young student.

As a student, she is hardworking and has consistently done well in her studies. She has received recognition for her academic performance and continues to strive to do better. More than her achievements, however, I appreciate her character.

She is respectful, willing to learn, and trustworthy when given responsibilities. She also shows humility and understands the importance of listening to others.

As her Ustadzah, I believe Jobaerah has the qualities of a young woman who can become a person who will be of benefit to her family and community. Her eagerness to learn, diligence, and determination are qualities that I hope she will continue to carry as she pursues her education. I sincerely hope that she will be given the opportunity to continue her studies and reach the goals she is working hard for.
