LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION

To the PCAPD Scholarship Committee:

I am pleased to recommend Julyanne T. Galletes for the PCAFPD Scholarship. As her former school principal. I had the opportunity to observe her growth and development as a student. During her elementary years, Julyanne distinguished herself not only through her academic efforts but also through her willingness to take on leadership responsibilities. She served as a student leader and class president, where she demonstrated responsibility, initiative, and the ability to work respectfully with her classmates and teachers.

Julyanne's leadership was further evident through her active participation in various school activities and competitions. She consistently demonstrated discipline, teamwork, commitment, and a willingness to contribute her time and effort whenever she was needed. Her involvement showed that she understood that leadership is not simply about holding a position, but also about being dependable, cooperative, and willing to contribute to the success of the school community.

She also demonstrated determination and perseverance through her participation in sports and other extracurricular activities. Whether working individually or as part of a team, Julyanne showed focus, dedication, and a positive attitude toward challenges. She was willing to practice, improve her skills, and learn from her experiences. These qualities reflect her ability to set goals and work consistently toward achieving them.

She also showed enthusiasm for academic and technology-related activities. One notable area where she demonstrated her skills was Desktop Publishing, where she actively participated in competitions and achieved recognition at the district level. This experience reflected her creativity, attention to detail, willingness to learn, and ability to apply her skills in a competitive setting.

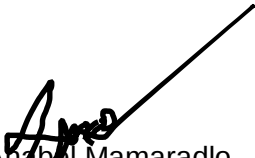

She also participated in various academic and school-related activities, demonstrating her versatility, curiosity, and eagerness to develop herself beyond the classroom. Beyond her achievements, what I particularly admire about Julyanne is her willingness to serve and contribute to others. Her experience as a class president and student leader gave her opportunities to work with different people, assist in school activities, and encourage her fellow students. She consistently demonstrated cooperation, respect, and responsibility in carrying out her duties.

I am confident in recommending her for the PCAFPD Scholarship. She has demonstrated leadership, perseverance, academic potential, creativity, and a genuine willingness to participate in and contribute to her school community. More importantly, she has shown the character and determination necessary to make good use of the opportunities given to her.

I believe that with the support provided by this scholarship, Julyanne will continue to pursue her education, develop her abilities, and strive for excellence. I am confident that she will make the most of this opportunity and use her education not only for her own growth but also to make a positive contribution to those around her.

Sincerely,

Anabel S. Mamaradlo
