PCAFPD scholars are chosen on the basis of their financial need, academic performance, and commitment to community service and leadership. As the applicant's reference, please describe the applicant's demonstrated leadership skills, accomplishments, and impacts on your community and any other relevant information you feel the committee should know about the applicant.

It is a distinct privilege to recommend Rowelina Sasaban for admission to your scholarship program, having observed her exceptional intellectual curiosity and leadership over the past 2 years in my Practical Research class.

Rowelina is consistently distinguishes herself not only through academic excellence—regularly producing thoughtful, analytical work that surpasses high school expectations—but also through an innate drive to elevate classroom discussions and support her peers. Whether taking the initiative on complex group projects or delving deeply into independent research, she demonstrate the resilience, critical thinking, and maturity required to thrive in a rigorous collegiate environment. I am entirely confident that Rowelina will make significant, lasting contributions to your academic community, and I give her my highest recommendation without reservation.
