I am writing to express my wholehearted support for John Aleen Bernardo in his application for the PCAFPD Scholarship. As a Grade 12 STEM student at Looc National High School, John Aleen has proven himself to be an earnest, hard-working student and a dependable student leader.

I have had the pleasure of observing John Aleen in both academic and extracurricular settings. He serves as an official Youth for Environment in Schools Organization (YES-O) Protocol Officer, a campus journalist, and the Head of the Technical Team for school TV broadcasting. In these roles, he shows remarkable responsibility and patience. Running the technical side of broadcasts requires steady teamwork, quick thinking, and a sharp attention to detail. Whether he is organizing student activities, managing media equipment, or helping classmates, he consistently steps up with enthusiasm and integrity.

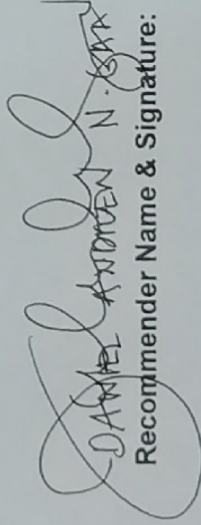

What stands out most about John Aleen is his genuine desire to serve those around him. He balances a demanding academic workload with various school leadership roles without compromising the quality of his work. His strong work ethic, clear communication skills, and respectful nature have earned him the respect of both his teachers and peers.
