Recommendation

Good day!

To the Selection Committee of the Peace Corps Alumni Foundation for Philippine Development (PCAFPD),

I am very happy to write this recommendation letter for Mr. Mallari for the PCAFPD Scholarship. I had the privilege of being his Grade 9 adviser and Math teacher, SPA Dance instructor, and Dance club adviser during Junior High School, and I've seen firsthand how much he has grown over the years.

When I first met him, he was quite shy and introverted. But as I got to know him, I realized just how smart, dependable, and capable he really is. In class, he is always diligent and well-prepared. He speaks English very well, and he's the type of student who genuinely enjoys learning. He would often share fun Science trivia with his classmates. Even though he is soft-spoken, whenever he shares his thoughts, people listen because he always has something valuable to say. In our dance group, he was someone I could always count on. Practice sessions can be long and exhausting, but he never complained. He just showed up, did the work, and got along so well with everyone. He has a great sense of camaraderie, and his quiet dedication helped keep the group together and focused.

What I admire most about him is seeing how he grew as a leader from Junior High to Senior High School. Through his accomplishments, he proved that you don't have to be noisy or outspoken to be a good leader. He leads by example. Whether we were planning school activities or working on projects, he was always responsible, organized, and willing to help out wherever needed.
